Equestrian Engagement

1. Predominantly dressage and formerly show horse, and have previously been active as horse owner (eventing).
2. Continue to compete at medium level in open competition and hold competition licence (dressage).
3. Currently engaging Emily Symonds to prepare my young horse in anticipation of the upcoming Young Horse Competition.
4. Travel annually to Dressage with the Stars in Werribee to ensure continued exposure to Eastern States activity and performance.
5. Travelled recently to Aachen to WEG (third Aachen visit).
6. Following upon Aachen, have recently been corresponding with Belinda Hawkins and Australian Story in an attempt to obtain recognition for Boyd Exell.
7. Concerned that there was diminishing community engagement within dressage some years ago I liaised with Nerissa Foster and Nadine Merewether to arrange, engaging the support of DWA, a series of masterclasses held at the SEC.
8. Concerned that DWA had not held a Young Horse Competition for some years, (notwithstanding that this is a competition that is one of the most important International Events in dressage), proposed, arranged and assisted in securing Horseland as a sponsor such that the event be reintroduced, and subsequently continued. I also hosted and ran, at my home, a young horse workshop to advertise the event and assist in familiarising potential competitors with the Rules and protocols.
9. In 2025, secured sponsorship for the Young Horse Competition (the balcony was subsequently predominantly comprised of lawyers as a result), and arranged and hosted a balcony sponsors lunch. I also secured sponsorship for the Hudson Henning and Goodman Rising Star competition.
10. In 2023, I recognised the need for sponsorship in dressage, and whilst not a member of the DWA committee, gathered an excellent team of assistants to implement a balcony lunch for sponsors. In that regard, I liaised with the Committee to prepare a sponsors pack, assisted in raising sponsorships, and liaised with Zac Acott (then CEO) to run the inaugural lunch and host that event. Following the success of that strategy, I continued to manage the event in the following year (again assisted by my excellent team of volunteers), as a result of which the State Dressage Championships achieved the accolade of Event of the Year. In the following year, the management of this event was assumed by various members of the Committee, and my involvement was discontinued, however my participation in the Young Horse competition remained.
11. I sponsored Young Horse classes in 2024 and 2025, and have offered sponsorship this year (no response received to date).
12. Over the last 20 years I have also arranged and facilitated at my home, clinics with Nadine Merewether, Ramon Guerrero and Stephanie Spencer.
13. I have previously been engaged, in my professional capacity, to litigate various equestrian matters including drafting leases, preparing indemnities for both coaches and owners of agistment facilities upon incorporation, litigating disputes arising from sales and transfers, and handling matrimonial disputes where valuable horses comprise property within the matrimonial property pool (including representing third party interests).
14. I have previously offered my services to EWA as a mediator on a pro bono basis when engaged by former CEO Dwight Pedlow, to assist in resolving disputes.
